* Required

Instructions for completing the IPed accreditation exam registration form

1. Read the 2026–27 Guide for candidates before you start.

2. Keep a copy of these instructions. You can print, save or copy and paste these instructions into another document, or download and save a PDF preview.

3. Allow about 20 minutes to complete the form. Make sure you have all your information ready in advance (see item 6 for the information). You will not be able to save the form and come back to it. Move through the form using the Back / Next buttons at the bottom of each page – do not use the back button on your browser.

4. Complete all questions about sitting the exam, such as choice of how to sit. Other questions are optional, but we will de-identify the information you provide. It helps us understand candidates' editing background and experience so we can ensure the exam continues to meet the profession's needs.

5. Check your email after submitting the form. We'll email you a copy of your completed form once you've submitted it. If your circumstances change, or you need to update any information, contact the exam administrator directly as soon as you can (exam.administration@iped-editors.org).

6. Please have the following information ready:

- (a) Your full name and contact information, including a phone number where we can reach you urgently (e.g. on exam day). You must provide the email address you use for IPed membership, although you can also provide an alternative email.
 - (b) If you are resitting the exam, the year you last sat it.
 - (c) How you want to sit the exam (remotely or at an alternative venue).
 - (d) Whether you have any adjustment requirements. You must make adjustment and other requests as early as possible so we have time to prepare. If your request is about a medical condition, we will ask you to provide a medical certificate before registrations close.
 - (e) Details of your name and address for your accreditation certificate, if you pass, as well as whether you consent to IPed publicising your name. But you can update this information on receipt of your notice of passing the exam.
- Optional information:* (f) Profile information (e.g. level of education, type of editorial training, years of experience as a professional editor, and the nature of your current editorial work, including specialties).

7. Declare that you have read, understood and agree to comply with the various exam policies set out in the 2026–27 Guide for candidates, and that if you have not already paid the registration fee for the Language part, you will pay by the due date.

8. Submit your form before the closing dates. Earlybird registrations close on 11 October 2026. If you have registered as an early bird but do not pay the Language part fee by this date, we will issue you a new invoice for the full fee for this part. All registrations close on 8 November 2026. If you have not paid the Language part fee by this date, we will cancel your registration. (For more information about cancellations and refunds, read the 2026–27 Guide for candidates and the IPed website.)

Candidate type

Resitting candidates

We need to know which year you last sat the exam so we can check our registration records and fees paid. This enables us to check your eligibility for the reduced fee. If you have already resat the exam at a reduced rate, you are not eligible for the reduced fee. Our records go back only as far as 2016 when IPed was formed. If you sat the 2014 or an earlier exam, you will need to send us independent proof, such as your fee receipt, that shows you have already sat the exam at the full fee.

8. In what year did you last sit the exam? *

- ☐ 2022
- ☐ 2020
- ☐ 2018
- ☐ 2016
- ☐ 2014 or earlier

Options for sitting the exam

You may sit the exam remotely (your home, workplace or other suitable venue) or at an alternative venue near you.

9. Please tell us where you would like to sit the exam. *

- ☐ Remote sitting of the exam in my own home, workplace or other suitable venue.
- ☐ Arrangement of an alternative venue at or near my location.

Remote candidate time zone

We need to know this so that we can assign a remote invigilator in the same, or a close enough, time zone.

10. In what time zone will you be on 7 December 2026?

Alternative venue location

If you do not wish to sit the exam in your home, workplace or other venue of your choosing, we may be able to arrange an alternative exam venue close to you. If not, you will still be offered a remote sitting. If we are unable to come to a suitable arrangement for you, your registration will be cancelled and your fee refunded according to our cancellation policy.

11. Where do you expect to be located on 7 December 2026, and what is the nearest large town or city to that location?

Remote candidate agreement

You will sit the exam at your home, workplace or another suitable venue of your choice. An invigilator will monitor you remotely via webcam and screenshare. To sit the IPed 2026–27 accreditation exam remotely, you must agree to each of the following 9 conditions.

Please indicate your agreement by checking the box next to each condition to show that you have read, and that you understand and agree to, that condition. These ticks indicate your agreement and are an alternative to your signature.

12. Question *

Please select 9 options.

- ☐ You will be asked to attend practice sessions (that are recorded) and agree that if you choose not to attend, IPed is not responsible for any technical issues that prevent you from sitting the exam remotely on the day.
- ☐ You will not disclose the contents of the exam to any person, nor copy or distribute any exam document or part of an exam document in any way, unless directed to do so by the exam coordinator or your remote invigilator.
- ☐ You will test the computer and internet systems at the location where you will sit the exam against the technical requirements provided by the exam coordinator, and warrant that you are able to sustain a video and audio connection for the duration of the exam session (up to 3 hours).
- ☐ Your physical image, voice, computer desktop, exam documents and workspace will be recorded for the purposes of quality, security and integrity of the exam process. You consent to the recording being uploaded and stored on secure IPed cloud accounts until the exam assessment and appeal process are completed, after which it will be securely deleted.
- ☐ You will be monitored during the exam session in real time so that your upper body, voice, computer desktop and workspace will be visible to the remote invigilator and possibly recorded during the exam session.
- ☐ You will have no right to privacy at your location during the exam session and you explicitly waive any and all claims asserting a right to individual privacy or other similar claims.
- ☐ Your remote invigilator will make a note of any inappropriate or wrongful conduct, as determined at the sole discretion of the invigilator in line with guidelines issued by the Accreditation Board, that they witness while monitoring your exam session. The invigilator will refer any noted conduct to the exam coordinator, who will review the recording to decide on the appropriate action to be taken, if any. That action may include reporting the conduct to the Accreditation Board, the IPed Board, appropriate government authorities and law enforcement officials.
- ☐ Your exam session may be terminated if any third party, including an artificial intelligence agent, is: 1) detected as being present in your physical location, whether visible or not; 2) overheard in any manner, whether physically detected through movement and making of noise or through sounds irrespective of whether they are in your current location or not during your testing session; or 3) observed interacting with you via any electronic messaging, whether or not it relates to the exam. If your session is terminated for this or any other reason, you will not receive any score and you will not receive an exam fee refund, credit or voucher.
- ☐ Availability of the exam is subject to enough remote invigilators being available.

Alternative venue candidate agreement

You will sit the exam at an agreed alternative venue, using either the venue's or your own computer, equipment and mobile internet. An invigilator will monitor you in person at the venue. To sit the IPed 2026–27 accreditation exam at the alternative venue, you must agree to each of the following 8 conditions. Please indicate your agreement by checking the box next to each condition to show that you have read, and that you understand and agree to, that condition. These ticks indicate your agreement and are an alternative to your signature.

13. Question *

Please select 8 options.

- ☐ If a suitable venue or in-person invigilator at your location cannot be arranged in time for the exam, or part of the exam, you will switch to remote sitting or have your registration cancelled.
- ☐ You will be asked to attend practice sessions (that are recorded) at the venue to ensure all computer hardware, software and internet systems, whether provided by you or the venue, meet the technical requirements to sit the exam.
- ☐ You warrant that you will have sufficient mobile internet connection to be able to download and upload the exam documents and to access the approved online resources, in the event that the venue's internet service is disrupted or unreliable; and that you will be primarily responsible for your own technical support in the event that you have technical issues on exam day.
- ☐ You will not disclose the contents of the exam to any person, nor copy or distribute any exam document or part of an exam document in any way, unless directed to do so by the exam coordinator or your remote invigilator.
- ☐ If the alternative venue is a private residence or workplace, you agree to grant the invigilator access to the venue for practice sessions and on exam day, and to stay at the venue to monitor you throughout the exam.
- ☐ You agree that on exam day, the invigilator may inspect the contents of your computer's drives before, during and after the exam to check for unauthorised materials.
- ☐ Your invigilator will make a note of any inappropriate or wrongful conduct, as determined at the sole discretion of the invigilator in line with guidelines issued by the Accreditation Board, that they witness while monitoring your exam session. The invigilator will refer any noted conduct to the exam coordinator, who will decide on the appropriate action to be taken, if any. That action may include reporting the conduct to the Accreditation Board, the IPed Board, appropriate government authorities and law enforcement officials.
- ☐ Your exam session will be terminated if you 1) access any internet materials that are not the approved online resources; or 2) interact with any third party, including artificial intelligence agents, via any electronic messaging, whether or not it relates to the exam. If your session is terminated for this or any other reason, you will not receive any score and you will not receive an exam fee refund, credit or voucher.

Choice of computer system

We need to know whether you intend to sit the exam on a Windows or Apple computer so that we can assign you an invigilator familiar with your computer's operating system. You may change your choice of computer system before registrations close by notifying the exam coordinator, but you will not be able to change your choice after Sunday 8 November 2026 or on exam day.

14. Which computer system do you plan to use for the exam? *

- ☐ House style guide (you will need to supply a copy for the assessors)

16. Please provide details of the commercial style guide you plan to use, including title, format (digital or print) and edition, so that we can approve its suitability and ensure the assessors have a copy (if print) or can access it (if digital). *

Digital resources

In the exam you will have access to the Macquarie dictionary online and digital versions of the latest editions of IPEd standards for editing practice and Books without barriers: a practical guide to inclusive publishing. Notes:

(a) You are responsible for your own equipment and workstation set-up, whether you sit remotely or at an alternative venue.

(b) The exam questions may contain images. If you have any kind of visual impairment or other condition that means you will need an alternative way to access the content in the images (e.g. alt-text descriptions), please provide details, including your preferred alternative, under "Other" so that we can ensure the exam questions are accessible to you.

☐ Yes

Optional information

The following questions ask for information about your editing background and experience. Unlike the previous questions, we will de-identify your responses and match them to your candidate number so we can analyse the exam results. The more we know about candidates sitting the exam, including the profiles of those who pass and those who don't, the better we can ensure that the exam meets the needs of the profession and also that we are providing the best information to candidates.

If your current situation does not involve editing work or study, please check the box that describes your most recent editing situation. Note, there is no option for never having undertaken any editing work or study. If that is your situation, then we strongly suggest you do not continue with registration, as you are unlikely to be ready to sit the exam.

Editorial training

31. For how many years (full-time equivalent) have you been editing professionally?

By "professionally", we mean that you are being paid for your editing work. Note, the Accreditation Board recommends you do not sit the exam unless you have gained some experience as a professional editor (about 2–3 years full-time, or at least 4 years casual or part-time). Your answers here will tell us whether that recommendation is still valid.

Note, this question is about subject matter, not format, so it does not matter if the material is for print or digital. For example, if nearly all your work is online, your answer still depends on the kind of content it is. If you edit website copy for businesses, then you would select "Business, corporate or marketing content"; if you edit online support material, then you would select "Technical manuals"; and if you edit something like Wikipedia or Lonely Planet online, you would select "Reference materials".
